

A Prayer for the week:

Lord, you have said in your word that you have dealt to each one a measure of faith (Romans 12 :3). May the truth of Your word be firmly established in our hearts so that faith will grow daily and navigate our lives.

Help us to trust you at all times for truth, guidance and transformation into Your likeness. Trusting in you is a choice, enable us to make that choice.

We pray that we will look to you for everything, knowing that we are never without hope.

We pray that we will have faith strong enough to lift us above our circumstances and limitations, knowing that everything will work together for good. (Rom 8:28).

As we walk in faith may we have a heart of love that overflows to others, a heart that is willing to give according to your leading, seeing that giving out of love is actually giving back to You in faith— and that we will never lose anything by doing so.

Faith and Focus

Nothing torpedoes life quite like fear. It can cause us to withdraw into ourselves and ruin relationships, occupations and lives. Faith on the other hand draws us out of ourselves and into new and deeper relationships and ways of living.

Where fear destroys, faith builds and develops. Where fear makes us critical, legalistic and demanding, faith can bring out understanding, graciousness and generosity. Fear is dark and lonely. Faith is light and companionship.

Fear focusses on the now me. Faith looks at the eternal Lord Jesus and delights in Him .
